

VISITOR INFORMATION & GUIDELINES

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF SAN FRANCISCO PHOENIX PROCESSING CENTER 1550 N. 47TH Avenue, Phoenix 85043

If you will be arriving via any method other than personal vehicle (ex.: public transportation, taxi), please enter via our pedestrian entrance which is located just south of the main gate on 47th Avenue.

If you are arriving via personal vehicle, we are pleased to host parking on a first come basis for registrants. Please park in any open spot not marked as reserved.

When entering or exiting the front vehicle gates, DO NOT follow (tailgate) another vehicle through the inbound or outbound lanes. The gates have metal barriers (bollards) that are programmed to rise after one vehicle has passed through. These bollards will cause severe damage to a vehicle.

This handout should be distributed to all drivers.

Step 1:

Once you turn south onto 47th Avenue from McDowell Road, our building will be immediately on your right hand side.

Step 2:

Pull up to the gate and via the intercom system, notify the Federal Reserve Police Officer the reason for your visit. The Police Officer will already have a manifest with your arrival information. After confirming the identity of the vehicle occupant(s), the Police Officer will open the gate for you to enter. You may park in any open spot not marked reserved.

Step 3:

Once you park, proceed to the front door.

Everyone entering the Bank will be required to walk through the metal detector and all carried items will be screened by the use of an x-ray machine. Items determined to be weapons will not be permitted (ex.: guns, knives, pepper spray, mace, etc.) Anyone found to be in possession of illegal weapons will be subject to arrest. In addition, cameras and cell phones are not to be permitted.

Police Services will notify your point of contact of your arrival. They will meet you at the entrance and escort you into the building.
